To Whom It May Concern:

We recently made the decision to evaluate alternatives to hiring an expensive media specialist for the assembly of exhibits and mousing through presentations during our Mediations. We would require well organized and clearly delivered presentations, and did not want to continue relying on an external fee-based trial presentation consultant for that ability.

I put my paralegal, Susan DelMonico, to the task of finding a presentation tool that had the impressive multi-media capabilities I had seen used in past trials and mediations with the prerequisite that it did not require extended levels of training and ongoing support. It had to be something I could easily use if necessary.

We had heard of a tool, ExhibitView, which was recently developed by another practicing attorney and colleague and decided to give it a try.

After a very brief and personally delivered tutorial my paralegal was up and running in no time; and, our presentation looked like those I have seen at major trials in the past.

ExhibitView met all my requirements and exceeded my expectations for an intuitive and powerful presentation tool!

I will not hesitate letting my fellow trial lawyers know about your exciting new product, ExhibitView.

Sincerely,

Michael Prieto
